

Webster University's Audio Engineering Society

Proudly presents the Fourth Annual Central Region AES

Student Summit!

Last year was a total success, with over 400 participants and this year, with your help, we expect many more!

Friday, March 26th - Sunday, March 28th

Featuring top names in the audio industry such as George Massenburg and Frank Filipetti, panel discussions and tutorials with the best in the business, exhibitors showing off cutting edge audio equipment, free music, free food, a mixing competition, and a Platinum Panel.

- Panels and tutorials on such topics as Internships and Entry Level Positions, the Future of Analog, Aesthetics, Studio Ownership, Did the Internet Kill the CD Star, Women in Audio, Sound Reinforcement, Signal Processing and Restoring Vintage Gear, to name a few.
- A mixing Competition with great prizes!
- Lodgings as cheap as $10 per night while they last!
- All included in your $25 early-bird registration fee. We'll even throw in lunch on Saturday and breakfast both mornings!

This will be a great opportunity for students from the Central Region, some of whom cannot attend the conventions in New York or California, to mingle with their peers from other educational institutions as well as professionals.

Come rub elbows with the stars and play with cool gear!

Info at webster.edu/aes

For more information contact us at: gsquared@webster.edu