International Relations (MA)

This program is offered by the College of Arts & Sciences. It is available online, at the St. Louis home campus, and at select U.S. and international campuses. Please see the Campus Locations and Offerings section of this catalog for a list of campuses where this program is offered.

Program Description
The master of arts (MA) in international relations enables students to analyze the complexities and processes involved in world politics and international affairs. Coursework provides exposure to the key subfields of the discipline and relevant issues such as globalization, human rights, humanitarian action and economic development. The program can help prepare students to compete for work with a governmental agency, an intergovernmental organization, a nongovernmental organization, or a multinational corporation. This program is also recommended for students planning to pursue a PhD or an academic career at another institution.

The degree requires satisfactory completion of 27 credit hours of the INTL curriculum and 9 credit hours of graduate electives for a total of 36 credit hours.

Webster also offers a Global MA program in international relations. Learn more at the Global MA Program page (external to the catalog).

Learning Outcomes
Students who complete this program will be able to:

- Demonstrate a working knowledge of several subfields of the international relations discipline.
- Demonstrate strong research skills.
- Critically analyze international events and issues.

International Relations (MA)

Dual Major Option: International Relations/International and Nongovernmental Organizations

This program is only available at the Geneva campus.

51 Credit Hours

The dual major in international relations and international and nongovernmental organizations is designed for the student who wishes to seek a single master of arts degree with two majors: international relations and international and nongovernmental relations. Unlike a sequential or dual degree, the student earns a single master’s degree but with two concentrations. It is therefore more credit hours than a single-concentration masters (36 credit hours) but still fewer than a sequential degree (60 or 63 credit hours).

Required Courses:
- INTL 5000 Introduction to International Relations (3 hours)
- INGO 5000 Introduction to International and Nongovernmental Organizations (3 hours)
- INTL 5100 Research Methods and Perspectives (3 hours) or INGO 5200 Research Methods and Approaches in International and Nongovernmental Organizations (3 hours)
- INTL 6000 Capstone in International Relations (3 hours) or INGO 6000 Theory and Practice in International and Nongovernmental Organizations (3 hours)
- INTL 6250 Thesis (6 hours) or NTSC 6250 Thesis in National Security Studies (6 hours) and INTL 6900 University Thesis Requirement (0 hours)
- INTL 6900 University Thesis Requirement (0 hours) or NTSC 6250 Thesis in National Security Studies (6 hours)

*Students taking INTL 6250 Thesis in the MA in international relations and NTSC 6250 Thesis in the MA in national security studies must also register for INTL 6900 University Thesis Requirement (0 hours), INTL 6900 acknowledges successful completion of all thesis requirements including conforming to university and departmental guidelines, as well as depositing the thesis in the University library. The six credit hours for INTL 6250 or NTSC 6250 are drawn from the 3 hours reserved for the NTSC 6000 capstone and 3 elective credit hours in the program.

Electives
- 3 additional courses (9 hours) from the International and Regional Security Track in the MA in national security studies
- 4 courses (12 hours) from electives in other tracks in the MA in international relations
- 2 courses (6 hours) from the Comparative Politics Cluster of the MA in international relations
- 2 elective courses (6 hours) in the MA in international relations
