

International and Nongovernmental Organizations

Graduate Certificate 12 Credit Hours

This program is offered by the College of Humanities and Social Sciences. It is available at the Leiden campus but it is not available at the St. Louis main campus.

For information on the general requirements for a certificate, see Certificate Program Policies and Procedures under the Academic Policies section of this catalog.

Program Description

The certificate in international and nongovernmental organizations (INGO) program educates students interested in understanding the nature of world affairs through the activities of domestic, transnational, regional and international organizations around the world. The objective of this program is to develop students into INGO specialists who will have the appropriate skills for working in and with international and nongovernmental organizations. Coursework focuses on developing skills in project management, grant writing, fundraising, negotiations and other key areas essential to the work in this field. Where available, this certificate may be earned while completing the MA in international relations or as a stand-alone graduate certificate.

Learning Outcomes

Upon completing this certificate program, students will be able to:

- Identify the theories, history and major actors that govern the modern operations of international and nongovernmental organizations.
- Critically analyze and evaluate the roles and activities of IOs and INGOs in international affairs.
- Evaluate the consequences of the political and moral choices of IOs and INGOs.

Prerequisite

INTL 5000 Introduction to International Relations or at least two upper-level undergraduate courses in international relations.
