GSS 5000 Graduate Success Studies (3)

GSS 5000 is a 9-week online writing course for graduate students. Students will work on their writing skills as graduate students, including recognizing plagiarism, working with sources, and improving overall writing skills. In this online course, students will learn the writing, critical reading, and research skills required for success in graduate coursework. The course includes a variety of writing assignments that will focus on style and formatting while also addressing individual strategies for research and writing. This course is a credit/no credit course and does not count as an elective.
