- Be a Walker Mentor: Connect with a Walker student and share professional knowledge and insight.
- Participate in On-Campus Interviews: Select a date to interview Walker students in the East Academic Hall, home of the Walker School of Business & Technology at the main campus in Webster Groves.
- Facilitate a Workshop or Information Session: Provide students with valuable professional development, share company information and knowledge.
- Recruit Students at the Internship Fairs: This is a great opportunity to showcase your company to undergraduate and graduate students seeking opportunities within your company.
- Sponsor an Etiquette Luncheon Table: Host a table at the luncheon and help get students talking while showcasing your company.
- Have another idea? Contact Trezette Dixon at 314-968-6982 or dixont@webster.edu.

Recruit and Hire Walker EDGE Interns

The Walker EDGE provides domestic and multinational companies the opportunity to hire both local and global interns who are qualified, efficient, diligent and highly-motivated. Students interns come from a variety of cultural backgrounds. Many are based in St. Louis, others are F-1 international interns studying in St. Louis.

Walker EDGE Interns are:

- Innovative: Walker students will provide new perspectives on organizational issues and fresh, new ideas.
- Technical: Walker students possess knowledge of the newest technology, ranging from social media to mobile computing applications.
- Prepared: Walker students complete professional development activities and/or courses prior to beginning internships to ensure professional preparedness.

Why Hire a Walker EDGE Intern?

Walker EDGE interns can assist companies with:

- Recruitment: An internship provides a valuable opportunity to assess a student's potential as a future full-time employee.
- Project Management: Walker students can assist with completing projects that would otherwise go unfinished.
- Brand Promotion: Walker students serve as brand advocates for their host companies.
